What's new in version 12.91

Users can belong to multiple Portal accounts when invited via email by an Account Owner, Account Administrator, or Group Manager to a secondary Portal account.

To switch to secondary accounts in the Guest, simply click on the dropdown menu and select the secondary account that you want to switch to. This applies to the Windows, macOS, and Linux Guests.

By default, the primary account is the account that the user was first invited to. User settings are not transferred from the primary to any other secondary accounts. As such users can have different permissions, roles, or other settings on other secondary accounts without them interfering with each other.

Users can switch through multiple Portal accounts by using the same email and username. To change to another account in the Portal, simply click on the User Profile button and click on the account that you want to switch to.

When removing a user that belongs to multiple accounts from its primary account, the user is deleted from all the accounts.

If Multi-Factor Authentication is enabled for users on the secondary account, users are prompted to enter the MFA code upon logging in when switching to that account.

Bugfixes
